FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NATIONJOB REINVESTS OVER $1M INTO PARTNER COMMUNITIES

Through the Community Job Network™ Revenue Share Program, NationJob.com has reinvested over $1M into their partner Chambers and communities.

Des Moines, IA (12/17/2009) NationJob Inc. announced today that the company's Community Job Network™ Revenue Share Program has reinvested over $1M in partner Chambers over the past 9 years.

The Community Job Network™, formerly known as the Community Sponsorship Program, launched in 1994 in Wichita, Kansas – a program that is still going strong. The Revenue Share Program, introduced in 2000, has averaged revenue share of over $100,000 per year.

“We are very excited to reach this milestone!” announced Ralph Hejlik, CEO of NationJob Inc. “The foundation of the Community Job Network was built upon the economic development needs of small and mid-sized communities. Through the program, we have provided affordable online recruitment to companies, while also reinvesting their dollars back into their community. It’s a win-win....win. The company wins with a cost effective recruitment tool, the community wins by attracting new residents and employees through the local job board and the Chamber wins by offering a useful and affordable tool to their members and generating non-dues revenue!”

The program model is flexible and can be adapted to fit the needs of a particular community or region. In some cases, several Chambers may join forces to create a regional program. By combining efforts and resources, the entire area will benefit.

“This is a turn-key program, so for the Chamber there is very little work involved beyond the initial presentation,” stated Bill Melton, Community Development Director. “These are not dollars the Chamber had to earn through fundraising or a capital campaign. It is purely money reinvested into the community through a member benefit of the Chamber. For many companies this is an important factor when they select NationJob.com as one of their online recruitment tools.”
